An award for meritorious service

Mr. Simpson's familiar quick smile and occasional official frown will be missing in the principal's office next year but not in the school system. Our principal for the past eighteen years, Mr. Simpson moves on as Secondary Curriculum Coordinator.

QUEEN AND COURT: Theresa Penn, Kathy Holden, Queen Ann, Gail LaRue, Brooke Richards

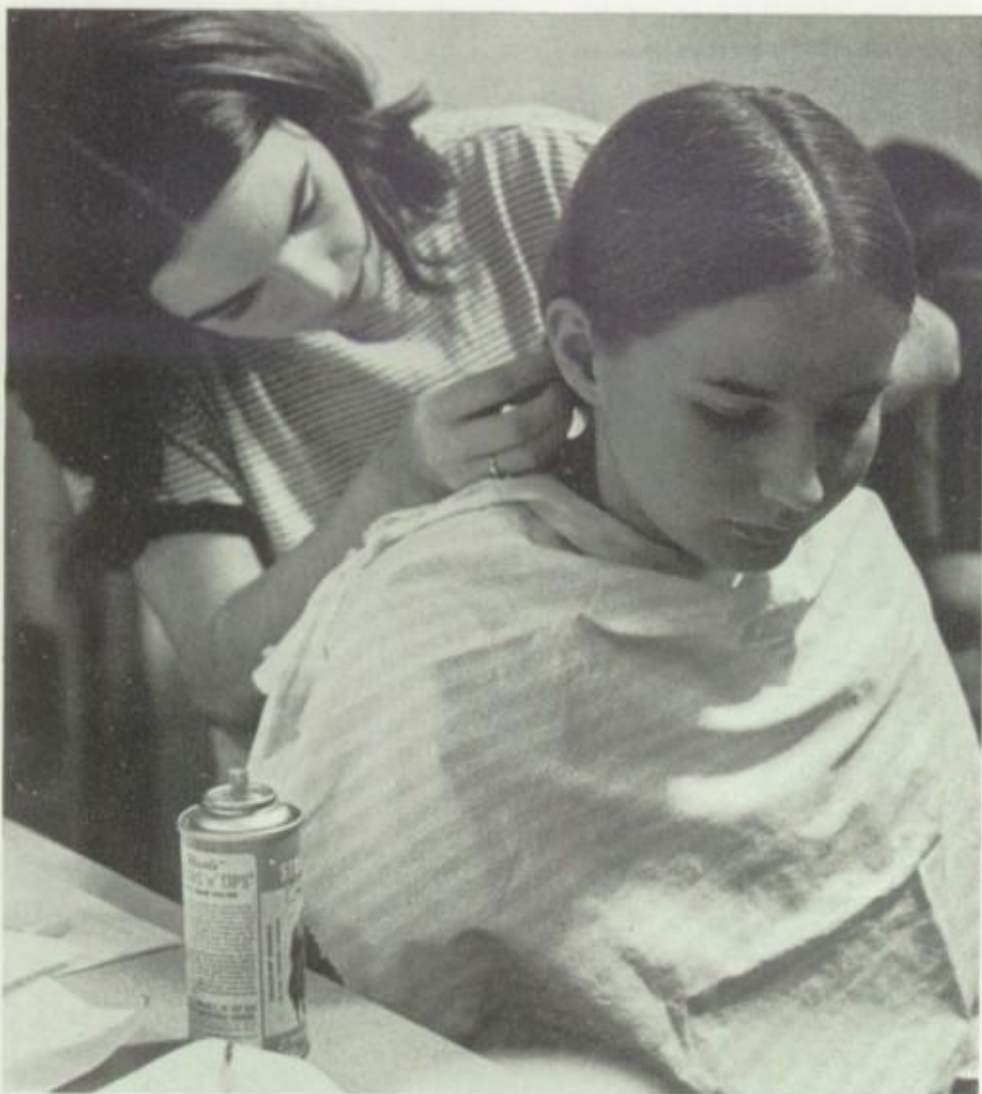

Student Council scheduled a festive week of Homecoming activities. Results of elections were announced for Queen and Court Thursday evening at the pep rally. Friday, the game was held following the parade through town. Saturday was the dance featuring the Third Command.

Harvey

A six-foot invisible rabbit began to walk the halls when the Junior sponsored play HARVEY was presented at Urbana. While Elwood P. Dowd, played by Peter Gunnell, happily buys everyone a drink, his sister, Candy Smith, and her daughter, Robin Roosa, plot to have Elwood admitted to a sanitarium. Things begin to go wrong when Elwood's sister is admitted by mistake.

The make-up committee works hard turning the young into old.

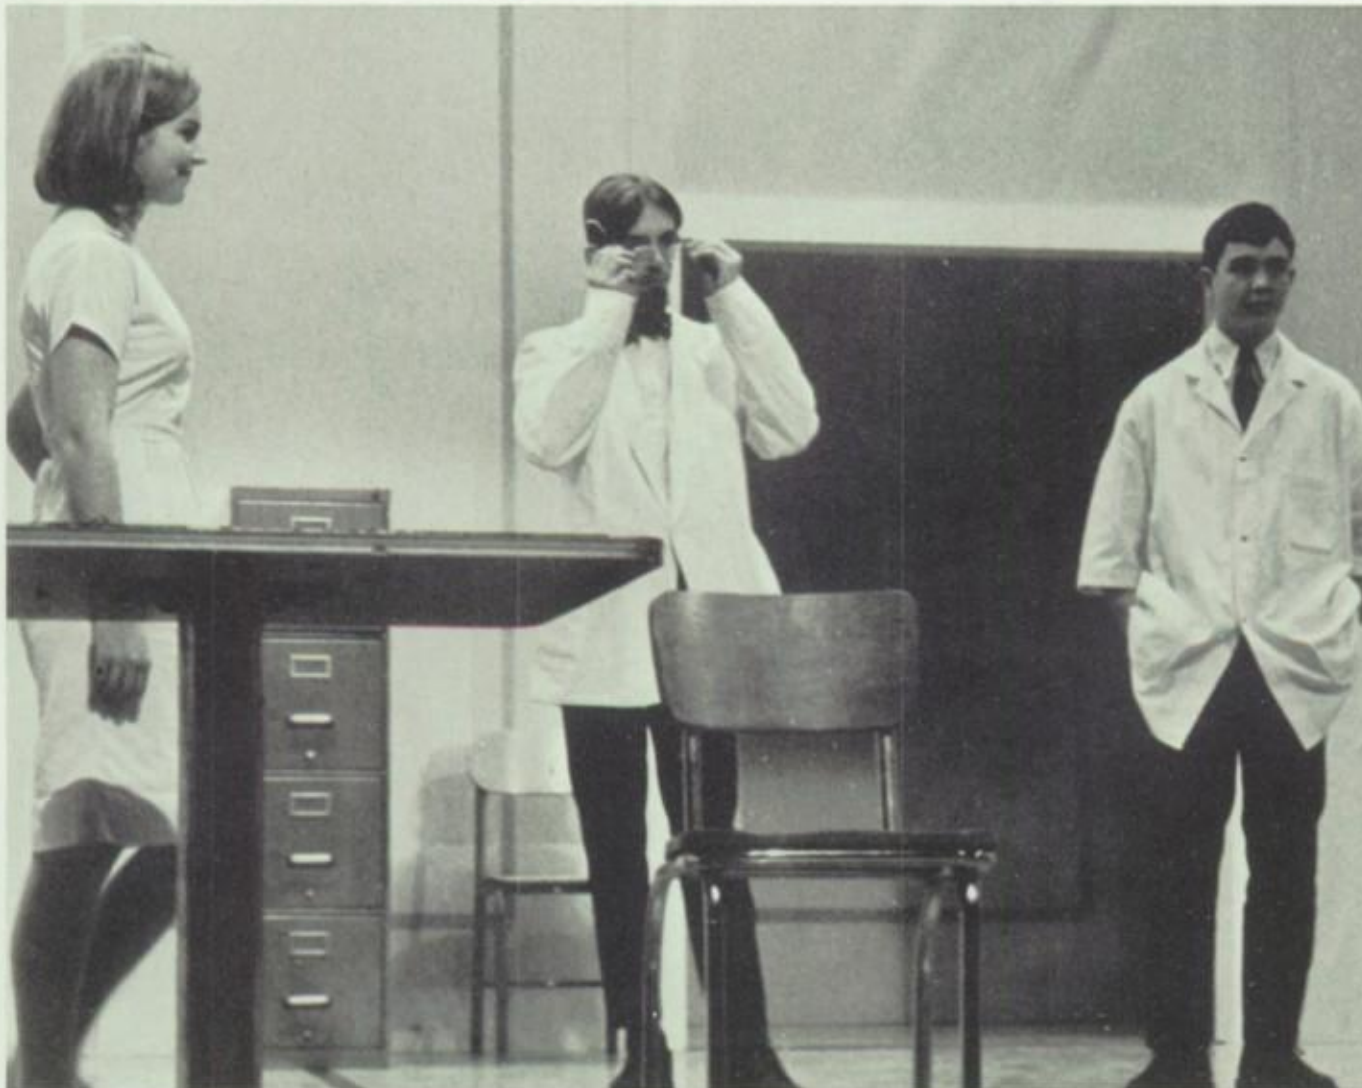

"If you had listened to me in the first place . . ."

Elwood invites one of his not too distinguished friends to dinner.

Robin Roosa gets some advice from an older and wiser woman.

Doctors and nurses confer over Elwood P. Dowd's sanity.

Candy Smith un-invites one of Elwood's not too distinguished friends.

The Wizard Of Oz

A Childrens' Theater production, The Wizard of Oz, was the senior contribution to drama last April. The play centers on the dream land adventures of a Kansas girl named Dorothy (Donna Smith) in the mythical land of Oz. As she travels through Oz in search of an audience with the Wizard, she is accompanied by the Scarecrow Without A Brain (Pat Gleason), The Tin Woodsman Without A Heart (Mark Hegele), and The Cowardly Lion (Richard Stokes). Although The Wicked Witch of the West (Jeannine Overholser) tries to prevent it, they finally reach the end of The Yellow Brick Road.

Cheryl Hunter and Sparky

The 1969-70 school year was an eventful one for the Girls' Athletic Association. After losing many seniors from the last class, "Zerk" reorganized the "Climberettes," the UHS drill team, while the new girls spent much time and hard work in practice. This year's Leaders Club helped Zerk tremendously in and out of her phys. ed. classes. The "Sparkettes," the pep squad, were comprised of many screaming freshmen and a few hardworking upper classmen. Cheerleaders and Sparky were kept busy, as usual, with cheerleading clinic, hall decorations, pep rallies, and keeping up school spirit in general.

Music Man

By Meredith Wilson

Directed by Ronald J. Elliott
And John H. Stewart

"Whadayatalk, Whadayatalk, Whadayatalk, Whadayatalk?"

"Gary, Indiana, my home thweet home."

Trumpets blared, drums rolled, and 76 trombones led the big parade as "The Music Man" sang and danced its way across the UHS stage. Mark Hegele, as that Music Man Harold Hall, and Nancy Hagar, as Marian the Librarian, performed under the direction of Ronald J. Elliott and John H. Stewart.

On the stage three nights, May 14-15-16, Urbana High students became River City, Iowa townspeople, while Larry Akey, Dave Smith, Bob Olejniczak, and Pat Gleason, sang in a quartet of school board members.

"This is the dawning of the Age of Aquarius." It seemed to be the dominant theme throughout the whole year, and it was only fitting that the 1970 UHS Prom should take on that mysterious, astrological atmosphere. "Celestial Magic" was the theme of the prom, held at the Urbana Country Club. The prom, decorated with dancing moons and stars, exotic lights, and roaming gypsy prom servers, featured the "Sticks and Stones," a nationally known rock group.
